- Enable NSW games companies to be internationally competitive, attract investment and grow employment
- Encourage international or interstate developers to locate studios or work in NSW

An eligible project must commit at the time of application to qualifying expenditure of at least AU$500,000 on the project in NSW. The spend may occur over several years. Multiple projects cannot be bundled to achieve the AU$500,000 threshold.

A project that does not meet the minimum qualifying NSW expenditure threshold of AU$500,000 at the time of acquittal will not qualify for any of the Rebate.

(If contracts are issued in foreign currencies the applicable exchange rate for determining whether the threshold has been met will be the exchange rate for the day on which PDV activity commenced on the project in NSW.)

FAQ and Resources

What if my anticipated NSW spend varies after the time of application?

If the qualifying NSW expenditure advised at the time of application varies by more than 10% or $5 million, the applicant must request a variation to the Letter of Offer. Requests should be made in writing to Screen NSW within 15 business days of the change. Variation requests will be subject to availability of Rebate funds.

Where the final qualifying NSW expenditure is less than the amount advised at application, pro-rata payments will only be processed if the minimum NSW spend threshold of AU$500,000 has been achieved.

What are the reporting and acquittal requirements?

Reporting requirements will be set out in full in the Letter of Offer and will include:

- An audited ledger/expenditure statement of qualifying NSW development expenditure with contracts, invoices, purchase orders and change orders. Where personnel are engaged across more than one project, applicants will need to keep records of attributable person days for the project.
- Number and category of local jobs generated by the project and attributable person days
- Full credit list of eligible personnel
- A statutory declaration supporting the data provided
- A statement confirming that all services were provided in NSW or, if not, the amount attributed to non-NSW services.

Each applicant must participate in any reasonable survey or feedback requests made by Screen NSW, both during the application phase and up to two years following acquittal.

When the applicant is not the games company the applicant must include the reporting obligations contained in this clause in its contract with each NSW games supplier it engages for the project.

Is there a time limit for making a claim?

Applicants must specify anticipated dates for commencement and completion of qualifying games development work and final claim in their application. The qualifying game development related activities need to commence within three months of the nominated start date unless otherwise agreed in writing with Screen NSW. Claims should be made within six months of project completion, unless otherwise agreed.

All claims must be made within three years of a Letter of Offer. For projects with a production duration of more than three years, applicants must contact Screen NSW at least six months before the three-year deadline to discuss.

What are the required delivery items?

Applicants must provide a copy of or access to the completed project and all delivery items specified in the Letter of Offer. Delivery items will include a link to the launch version of the game and agreed marketing material. Delivery items will be used by the NSW Government to promote the State's digital games industry. The NSW Government may publish the title and brief description of the project.

When are claims paid?

Screen NSW will process a Rebate final claim within six months of receiving an acquittal that is fully compliant with the project's registration, inclusive of all required delivery items. Milestone payments may be agreed on a case-by-case basis.

What acknowledgement of funding is required by the NSW Government?

The State must receive the following end credit in the version of the project intended for release: DEVELOPED IN [city] NEW SOUTH WALES, AUSTRALIA, WITH THE ASSISTANCE OF THE NEW SOUTH WALES GOVERNMENT and include the NSW Government logo. Suitable placement of the credit will be negotiated on a case-by-case basis.
